Re: Ahmed Mohamed v. Metropolitan Life Insurance Company
Civ. Act. No.: 10 CIV 7249 (PKC)
SDMA File No.: 00584-007645

Dear Judge Castel:

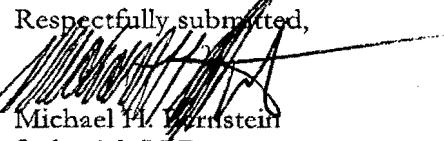

We represent the defendant Metropolitan Life Insurance Company ("MetLife") in the above-referenced matter. We are writing in response to the Court's Endorsed Order dated June 14, 2011.

MetLife respectfully submits that it is now at a significant disadvantage due to the plaintiff's submission of an oversized brief. MetLife fully complied with the Court's page limitation rules by filing a memorandum of law of 25 pages. In fact, plaintiff's memorandum of law is more than two times larger than MetLife's submission. It is therefore respectfully requested that MetLife be permitted to submit a memorandum of law in opposition to the plaintiff's Motion on Summary Trial up to 55 pages in length, so that it can sufficiently respond to the plaintiff's 30 page "Statement of Facts" and 25 page "Legal Argument." If the Court does not permit MetLife to submit an oversized memorandum of law in opposition to the plaintiff's motion, it will be prejudiced by the disproportionate amount of briefing allowed to plaintiff.

In addition, MetLife requests that the plaintiff's opposition to MetLife's Motion on Summary Trial be limited to 25 pages to avoid any further unfair advantage.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

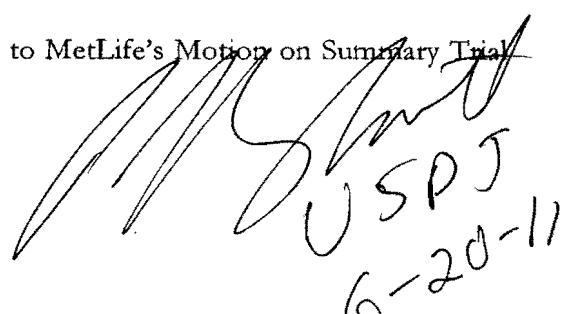

Respectfully submitted,

Michael H. Bernstein

Why stop at 55? Why not 85?
This is silliness on the part of litigants.
If neither side wishes to honor the court's preference so be it.
All page limits waived.
